CI' WYAT NOT 5, M.

Green atreet, between Third and Foarth. TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1866

One of the most reasonable and moderate of all the Republican papers, as ell as one of the very ablest, is the New York Evening Post. Yet that venerable and distinguished organ, in its appeals or exhortations, or warnings, or whatever they are intended to be, to the people of the South to adopt the constitutional amendment, lets itself use such language

With the rejection of the amendment, With the rejection of the amendment, we shall enter upon another political strug-gle, more intense than that through which we are now passing, more injurious to the country, and especially to the Southern States—a contest of which the issue is not States—a contest of which the issue is not doubtful for the twenty millions of the Northern States will begin to see the unreasonableness of the Southern leaders, and will lose patience with these men, who so stubbornly refuse the mildest terms ever offered to beaten rebels. Hitherto the country has wonderfully restrained itself; but we advise no one to push its patience too far. It is not at all impossible, it is not even improbable, if the ble, it is not even improbable, if the smendment should fail through the obtimacy of the Southern leaders, that the sws which are still on the statute book may be enforced against the politicians who led their States into treason and re-

Hitherto we have given only mercy-but justice is still alive. It seems a mon-strous thing to the Southern politicians that some of them should be excluded that some of them should be excluded from office, but snppose they were to be banged for their treason, as the law demands? Snppose their estates should be taken from them, as the law requires? If they will take our advice they will think of these things. They are not masters of the situation. They have no more power now nor strength with the country than they had the day Lee surrendered to Grant. If the men who led the way in the great treason insist on being hanged or atriated, they may yet have their will-

This is indeed a most extraordinary to the States a constitutional amendment, touching deeply the rights and interests don't want it. One would naturally suppose that free voting is the voting expected of them-that, in deciding whether they accept or reject the amendment, they are expected and desired to render the honest and sincere decisions of their own minds. One would think that States, wherever situated, called upon to express their choice between living under what is now the Constitution and what the vehenently-pressed amendment would make it, might atter their preference without apprehension of wrath or molestation.

But no, says the Evening Post, the ost moderate, as we have said, of its class, we propose the Constitutional Amendment to the Southern States for acceptance or rejection, but, if they dare, in the exercise of the right of choice, to reject it, wo to their leaders, to their political men, to all who may be supposed to have influenced their action. The Soathern people are threatened, that, in such event, the laws which sprung out of therebellion and all of which still remain upon to aggravate instead of allaying the great the statute-books, shall, although peace has existed nearly two years, be executed upon the prominent Southern citizensthat the property of such shall be confiscated, their families made vagabonds and beggars, and they themselves hanged. We don't remember ever to have heard such blood-and-thunder arguments addressed to nominally and theoretically free voters before. Vote as you please, say the radicals, but, vote as we don't please, and the surveyor's instruments and the hangman's will do your work.

This is indeed amazing. It is astound- it. It is tyrannical and oppressive. We Haman did They would be smitten by son, but, with their enactment, the functi as of Congress in regard to them termnated. That body has no authority to order or organize trials or enforce penalties for treason or anything else. If aucht remains to be done, it belongs to the courts. And from the courts the people of the South have nothing to apprehend. If any su h course toward them as tempted, Andrew Johnson, unless impeached, as we do not think him likely to be, will pardon them, and no courts will try pardoned individuals. Moreover, in a trial for treason, there must be a Prosecuting Attorney, and that officer is a ject to the Pre ident's direction. Such threats as the Post's show only the malice of their authors, there is no terror in them. We think that a people who had the nerve and the high resolve to wage su h a long and terrible war as was waged ly the South against the might of numbers will not be likely to shrink, in view of any prospects held up before them, from voting pon constitutional amendments and a'l other subjects as they please. The fellowing letter from Capt. Grant, formerly County Clerk of this county, and late Captain of the Fourth California cannot very clearly see what good human laws of any sort do. If those which accord with natural laws are supercrogatory, and those which do not are powerless, what is the use of any?

If human laws must be either unnecessary or ineffectual, why not sweep them from the statute-book, wipe out human government, and implicitly commit ourselves to the control of natural laws? why should we tax ourselves to keep up a system of which all that is not superfluous is fatile?

We suspect that the Advertiser's inference is a little too broad for the premises. Not impossibly the premises are also a little too broad for the truth.

Natural laws, in a very strict sense, nn-doubtedly "control every action of social man;" but, in this sense, human laws are the product of natural laws. In the cores Juarez, with the view of entering the Mex

Stomach Bitters.

READ THE FOLLOWING HOME EVIDENCE of its medicinal virtue, and try it in your own family circle:

Dear Sir: I have examined your Stomach Bitte The tilgh order which the ingredients going into it take in the Materia Medica, as well as the moshappy proportioned combination of substances suake your Bitters far superior to any similar prep station in the country. The fact that you use only the purest Bourbon Whiskey must necessarily reas far as wholesomeuess and palatability are taken thto consideration. I was well pleased to see in your establishment the process of manufacturing your Bitters carried on by way of displacemen which not only gives you a better product but als recommends itself by clearer operation. EMIL SCHEFFER.

Apothecary and Chemist Louisville, Sept. 29, 1966.

Dear Sirt My wife and child have been suffering r several months from indigestion. My wife, see ing your advertisement, requested me to hring her a bottle of your Stomach Bitters, which I did; and on her using one bottle, I am more than happy to state that my child, now four months old, who has not had a voluntary action since its birth, is enti v restored, and my wife is enjoying the hest of a bottle of your Bitters in the house, as she says it is the most strengthening and apetizing tonic that can be used, and that no house ought to be without it; and I feel it due to the public to make known wonderful good it has performed in my houshold, and most heartlly recommend its use in eve I remain yours, respectfully,

A NICE TEA PARTY .- On Sunday night about dark. James Spalding, James Bacon and Lewis Morris, three young men whose reputation can hardly be called spotless. went to the Bowles Honse, on Market street, above Second, registered three fictitions names, and tried to go in to supper Lout paying their bill. Mr. T. Fisher, e clerk of the house told them that they I'd not have supper until it was paid for. The three young men were all under the infl ence of liquor, and felt reckless. Morris pushed through and took his seat at the table The proprietor, Mr. Wingate, went to him and said that he must get p and leave the room or pay for his supper Morris muttered that Wingate had better let him alone. Mr. Wingate theu said he should put him out when Morris drew a revolver and fired. The ball passed through the door and hit the wall Morris was then secured and the pistol taken from him. Subsequently all three were arrested. They were tried before the Police Court on yes terday morning, fined $5 each for drunkenness, held in $100 each for carrying concealed a deadly weapon, and Morris held in $200 to answer the charge of shooting at Mr. Fisher. We are glad to see that Judge Craig is determined to put as end to all rowdyish conduct on the part of young men who know better, but uni tunately think it is a nice thing to make sots of themselves, to become worthless oalers and frequenters of the worst purheus of the city. During the trial they smirked and smiled in mutual aelf-com places by till we felt like asking them in he words of the poet, O' shame, where ought before the Police Court on yesterday morning, on complaint of his father who stated that his son was a drinking loafing lazy, and disobedient boy He stated that his remonstrances with his son had been met with curses and blows, and that he was unable to do anything with h.m. While this fearful record was being presented to the court, young McNamara there as perfectly unconcerned as if i had been something in which he had no possi le interest. He scemed atterly in different to the sorrows of his aged father. Such handness of heart, such moral de hardy an exception, the youth who has lost respect for his parents is tempter, even if it imbeue his hands in od. The start in the first heat was made very evenly. Laxemburg holding to the rear apparently for the purpose of makig his time towards the last of the mile. The track on the turn was almost a foot leep in mud, and the horses sunk down and la'mred hard to drag through it. The mud extended from about 150 yards from the judges' stand almost around to the half-mile post. The mile to the threequarter pole was run around very well Nell Gwynn leading-Liverpool and Luxemburg close together. In the turn, Luxen.burg struck out and came up on Nei forcing her hard down the stretch (which is very shert and finally pushing her to her best, coming in a half a head behind

Luxemburg was still the favorite, and 5 1,224 14 showed well for the second heat. A good start was made, Liverpool leading as he did in the first heat, but falling to the third place before the half mile was gone, Nell leading and Luxemburg following. Thus the mile was run until on the three-quarters came in shead in 1:58}, Liverpool a neck behind, and Nell a length in the rear. Luxemburg's friends now felt sure of his rictory, and thought the contest was easy. 1973 59 The start was made with Nell leading, Liverpool next, and Luxemburg close in the rear; and in these positions a hard rup was made to the half. At that Liver pool commenced falling back, and the contest lay between Nell and Luxemburg, the former coming in after a struggle leading leading some series. leading in 2:011, and thus winning the Maximilian lett the City of Mexico oa the 23d instant, resigning verbally in favor of Gen. Bazaine. The General endeavored to persuace him to delay his departure until Gen. Castillior's arrival, two days later, but he declined, and escorted by S00 Austrians, proceeded to Grizaria by a cross road to avoid meeting with Castilliar. He arrived at Orizaria yesterday and is expected here to-morrow. The captain of the Austrian frigate Dangodostates that as soon as Maximilian arrives he will at once leuve for Europe. It is said that Maximilian will publish to-days manifesto at Orizaria. Gen. Castillion reached the City of Mexico soon after Maximilian left, and took possession of the place and assumed the reins of the government.

Religious Aspect of the Fenjan Trials.

TORONTO, C W , Nov. 5. Mr Harrison, the prosecuting lawyer for the Crown in the Fenian trials, received a letter giving information of a plot to assassinate ladge Wilson and others, concerned in the Fenian trials. Considerable religious animosity is shown re-garding the proceedings. The fact that the Rev. Mr. Lamsden, a protestant, is acquitted, while the Rev. Mr. McMahon, a olic, is convicted, is severely e m mented upon.

THE FENIANS.

Stirring Address by President Roberts--He Urges Irishmen to Prepare for a Conflict with Their Oppressors---lie Denounces the British Government, and Gives Andy Johnson a Terrible Blow.

Hiadquarters Fenian Brothhood) No. 716 Breadway, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1836, 1 To the Fenian Brotherhood and the Irishmen of America:

Brothers and Countrynes -With feelings too acute for expression, and passion too deep for utterance, with a mind filled with bitter and painful memories. I now address you. On the borders of this great address you. On the borders of this great Republic, where you have made for yourselves a home, and earned the right in think, act, and live in the spirit of the broadest freedom—where your prerogative (annot be resisted or denied by faction, parties, or prejudice, so long as you are true to your own maulicod and the spirit of the laws which guarantee your rights, and insure to brave men their libraches. this, and insure to rave men their li'ties on the very borders of this Republic near your very doors. flaunting in your faces its blood-stained em lem of authority, is a government whose history is written in the blood of your race, whose wealth has been drawn from twenty ge erations of your robed and slaughtered kindred. and whose influence and power have been gained by every infamy and crime which the most self-h and debased instincts could prompt or resort to. Flying from its blighting influence and the slavery it entailed upon your native land and your race at home, flying from it and them, you have crossed the ocean and found in this new world changed customs, rights, and privileges, and even changed humanity, judging it by its outward signs and manifestations, but though all things else may be changed distance, climate, time, and the example of a great and free nation, it does not affect one iots the inhumanity of English laws and the harharous.

the example of a great and free nation, it does not affect one tota the inhuman spirit of English laws and the barbarous natures of those who uphold and administer them, and are sharers by direct descent of the crimes which their tathers inflicted upon a weak but gallant nation, and which must, sooner or later, call down upon the head of the pampered oppressor the vengeance of an outreged and despised divinity. The aristocrats who uphold England's laws to day, and perpetuate her oppression, are skilled in the hypocrisy for which they have ever been distinguished, breathing a voice so soft, so mild, so apparently just, that they have ever been distinguished, breathing a claws, believe the brure endowed with the spirit of the dove instead of the nature of the tiger. They are doves, indeed, to the streng, but tigers to the weak and friendless. America's misfortunes found them howling wolves; her triumphs, cooing doves. When she crouched in suffering they downingered and insultable but when they dominected and insulted but when, coming forth from her baptism of blood, she stood erect and great again, they cringed and fawned before the majesty of their judge and master. These same aris ocrais, fattening on the lust produced by the plundered wealth of the Irish natural distances. to the phinnered wearh of the Irish ha-tu n. disclaim all responsibility for her sufferings, and throw back upon their fathers the responsibility for wrongs in-fected upon ours, asserting at the same tile their own innocenic of Irish misery, and their willingness to make reparation for the wrongs of the past. But while they sound these pleasing notes in the care of foreign nations, they trample out even the little justice and liberty that re-mained in Ireland, and with a deliberate people.

Brothers' countrymen' England's power is not e-nfined to England or Ireland Her laws, her interests, are elsewhere Her supporting press are on both sides of the Atlantic, and her barbarous and blood-thirsty spirit is not confined to Ireland. In India, it is exterminating a race and tainting the air with the starved bodies of its civilized victims. In Jamaica, her Eyres have imitated the barbarities of her I izabeths, her Cromwells, and her Hastings, and in Canada the descendants. Eyres have imitated the barbarities of her Fizabeths. her Cromwells, and her Hastings, and in Canada the descendants of the Cow-beys of the American Revolution, true to the instincts of their Tory progenitors and the example and spirit of their foster mother, sharing in her infamy, gloating in her baseness, and following her example, have condumned to an ignominious death two of our countrymencone of them a minister of God, whose sacred calling and mission would be respected even by the savage frordes of the forest. Yes' they threaten to perpetrate a crime that, were it committed by the barbarous tribes of Asia, would call forth the indignation and abhorence of all eivihe indignation and abborrence of all eiv ne indignation and abborrence of all evi-zed nations. This priest and layman be accused of the same crimes. See Washington, Kosci sko, Lafayette, solivar and Emmet were guilty of. It is not a question, as has been asserted, whether rebels or loyal men shalf rule Maryland, but whether Mr. Creswell or some other man shall go to the United States Senate from Maryland. The indi-cations now are that there will be blood-shed and violence to-morrow.

Terrible Affray-One Man Killed. Another Stabbed, and the Third Knocked Down.

About half past one o clock this morning three men, named Thompson, Gessler and Williams, all residing in Newport and vicinity, were passing along Webster street, in the vicinity of No. 7 Engine street, in the vicinity of No. Engine House, when they met a party of roughs. An altereation took place, in which lists and bowlders were freely used. Finally one of the roughs knocked Gessler down, and another, drawing a long dirk-knife, stabbed both Thompson and Williams. From Mr. Gessler we learn that Thompson are word was most all and that he followed. from Mr. Gessier we tearn that Inomposen swonth was mortal, and that he tell to the ground in a lifeless condition almost immediately. His body was conveyed to the Bremen-street Station-nonse Williams, who was stabled in the groin nent, is certain, and that is that Thompwe are indebted to officer Kelly for the with Morphine. Last evening about 8 o'clock it hecame known that Ir. Alexis V. Hirley, a physician of the allopathic school, whose residence was at No. 47 George street, had died very suddeuly, and, upon the case being investigated, it was ascertained that he had taken a large dose of morphine with the intention it is supposed of put.

No reason has been assigned for the No reason has been assigned for the nash act except that the deceased had been in very poor health for some time, and vesterday appeared to be in very low spirats. Coroner Carey will hold an inquest on the hody at 10 o'clock this morning, when some facts in relation to the case may perhaps be developed. The deceased was for a number of years a practicing physician in Hichmond, Va., and had only been a resident of Cincinnati for a short time. He had an office on Sycamore street, near Fifth.—Cincinnati Grazette.
